

Report #2: Planet Vacation Report

Crew Name: _____

Members:

1. Journalist: _____
2. Geologist: _____
3. Photographer: _____
4. Astrologist: _____

Vacation Planet Report:

Group Questions:

1. Our crew would like to recommend the planet _____ as a possible future vacation planet.

2. Here is a metaphor that describes our planet:

3. Here are four similes that describe our planet:

4. We think this planet would be a great place to visit because:

5. Here is our campaign or slogan for getting people interested in visiting this planet:

(an example for Earth might be: Sail the Oceans, Meet the People, and Climb the Mountains... Visit Planet Earth!!!)

6. Here is a picture of our planet:

Journalist

Questions for the Journalist- Remember, as the journalist, it is your job to know the basic facts about the planet and gather information for the team.

1. In what year was your planet discovered? _____

2. How did your planet get its name? _____

3. Explain problems your group might have while visiting your planet:

Geologist

Questions for the Geologist- Remember, as the geologist, it is your job to study the composition of the planet; including the surface and atmosphere.

1. What are the temperature ranges for your planet? _____
2. Does your planet rotate horizontally or vertically? _____
3. What is the surface of your planet like? _____

4. Is your planet an inner or outer planet? _____

Astrologist

Questions for the Astrologist- Remember, as the astrologist, it is your job to study how your planet compares to the other planets. You might want to find out how far your planet is from Earth or if it has any interesting facts.

1. How many moons orbit your planet? _____

2. Does your planet have rings? _____

3. What position does your planet rank in distance from the Sun?

4. How long does it take your planet to complete one rotation?

5. How long does it take your planet to revolve around the Sun?

Photographer

Questions for the Photographer- Remember, as the photographer, to look up or draw pictures needed for the final report the crew will give. You may also need to find and print photos for the other crew members.

1. Write a poem about your planet that has five facts:

2. Use Microsoft Paint to draw a picture of what the sky would look like on your planet: